

THE LAST OF AUTUMN SPORTS

Supreme Court Hands Down Two Opinions of Moment to the Fraternity.

FOOT BALL AND LACROSSE THURSDAY

Breezy Wheel Whispers—The Sportsman's Budget—Among the Short-Haired—Base Ball and Lacrosse and the Usual Complete Weekly Round Up.

HAT disasters never come sharply applied to the great national game of base ball, it would seem, as well as to all other human affairs.

As yet I have not heard of any speculation on the result of the Goddard-Peter Maher contest. I don't think there will be very much money bet on it.

Richard K. Fox is a shrewd one. He saw all that money at New Orleans although he was in Europe at the time and now he has come to Omaha.

The leading lights of St. Louis will ask the next Missouri assembly to modify the law to such an extent as to admit of boxing contests in public.

Johnny Laveak and Jack Sisler are likely to meet before a Columbus athletic club.

Danny Needham, the veterinarian, has resigned as boxing instructor of the Palo Alto club.

Austin Gibbons has been matched to fight Harry Nickless in a London club the latter part of this month at 140 pounds.

The Columbia Athletic club of Washington, D. C., has given amateurs the shake and decided to have professional boxers in future.

Abe Lloyd and Mignie Norton are to meet December 21 instead of the 14th.

The Arlington club is to revive glove contests at Buffalo this winter.

Ed Smith, the Denver heavyweight pugilist, is out with a challenge to fight Joe Choyinski to a finish.

Pete McCoy has lost his nice berth. He was getting $1,500 a year as a teacher of boxing in a Brooklyn club, but the club has busted.

Joe Choyinski has been matched to meet Joe Hatter, the Quaker Joe, who came to Omaha from Chicago.

There are many who question the wisdom of all these glove contests located on the city streets.

boxing instructor of the Detroit Athletic club, says in the Chicago Tribune on the night of the 21st. The contest is limited to eight rounds, and is for 75 and 25 percent of the gate receipts.

As yet I have not heard of any speculation on the result of the Goddard-Peter Maher contest.

Richard K. Fox is a shrewd one. He saw all that money at New Orleans although he was in Europe at the time.

The leading lights of St. Louis will ask the next Missouri assembly to modify the law to such an extent as to admit of boxing contests in public.

Johnny Laveak and Jack Sisler are likely to meet before a Columbus athletic club.

Danny Needham, the veterinarian, has resigned as boxing instructor of the Palo Alto club.

Austin Gibbons has been matched to fight Harry Nickless in a London club the latter part of this month at 140 pounds.

The Columbia Athletic club of Washington, D. C., has given amateurs the shake and decided to have professional boxers in future.

Abe Lloyd and Mignie Norton are to meet December 21 instead of the 14th.

The Arlington club is to revive glove contests at Buffalo this winter.

Ed Smith, the Denver heavyweight pugilist, is out with a challenge to fight Joe Choyinski to a finish.

Pete McCoy has lost his nice berth. He was getting $1,500 a year as a teacher of boxing in a Brooklyn club, but the club has busted.

Joe Choyinski has been matched to meet Joe Hatter, the Quaker Joe, who came to Omaha from Chicago.

There are many who question the wisdom of all these glove contests located on the city streets.

But this is not all the supreme court has done. Leaving out of the question the merits of the above, this august body's decision is a landmark in the history of the sport.

That a nice property worth anywhere from $100 to $1,000 is not property at all, whether it is in the shape of a piano or quadruped, has long been deemed the slickest idea by all men of business.

When the dog leaves the owner's premises or goes upon the public road, an owner is liable for any damage done by the dog.

The contest between Tom Ryan, the welterweight champion, and Jack Collins, the Scouting Editor of The Bee: Your ever welcome letter of Nov. 1 was glad to hear from you, as I am at all times. Since my last letter to you, I have got a chance to manage one of the clubs in the Southern league next season, but as yet I have not accepted the offer.

On Thursday next, Thanksgiving afternoon, the local lovers of exciting and healthful outdoor sports, will have an opportunity of seeing for the first time in Omaha a bona fide lacrosse game.

The contest in question is to be between the newly organized Omaha club and the Kearney team.

Base ball magnates will be a hard crowd to bulldoze this winter. Retirement threats by star players will have about as much effect as a lead bullet.

Joe Frickard writes me from Chicago that the U. S. Delegation to the Olympic games in the U. S. is still in the city.

There are four cycling clubs in the United States bearing the cognomen of the Capital City Cycling club, each located at a different point.

A road congress is scheduled to meet in Indianapolis December 7, 8 and 9. Isaac Potter, author of "Good Roads," will deliver the opening address.

Minneapolis wheelmen have jointly raised the necessary funds to build a three-lap cement or asphalt track, which, when completed, will be one of the finest in the country.

Captain Potter of the Tourist Wheelmen requests that every member of the club who can be of any use to the club should be invited to the annual meeting.

The Ladies Wheel club indulged in one of their delightful little spin last Wednesday evening.

Do you love a genuine healthful and highly entertaining sport? If so get your wheels on a good running order and take part in the great hare and hounds chase on Thanksgiving afternoon.

The riding season of 1932 is rapidly drawing to a close. Now is the time for the horse owner to get his horse in the best of condition.

The report that James G. Ladd, owner of Louisa, Neb., had purchased a trotter from Goldsmith's farm is not correct.

Edward Pyle has the proper conception of the time to stop racing when he said the other day "make it at sunset."

Western drivers who desire to join the Trotting Horse Drivers' association recently organized at Lexington, Ky., are invited to meet at Dick Eiden, Harrods, Neb., who was elected a member of the Board of Governors.

Only one out of Norway, 4066, that ever had a harness on is the chestnut Billy Norseto, 4-year-old, that has taken a record this season of 3:30. Norway is owned by J.D.

pace which made the farmers, returning from church, pull their teams to one side in a hurry and their eyes to bulge out in astonishment. It was a dandy old score and no more like that.

The Omaha Wheel club held its initial "smoker" of this season last Wednesday evening, the 16th, in the parlors of their pretty club house on Seventeenth street.

The cash prize system bids fair to cause a big reaction in the ranks of amateur racing men. The majority of them would prefer to win for a smaller prize than to lose for the wings of the present races.

John M. Ward is hunting in Canada. His address is Commanda, Ont.—Sporting Life. Go to work now, everybody, and write to John.

Eddie Burke, de base ball scrapper, is tending bar in New York and it is to be hoped that he has secured a three or four year contract.

Tom Lovett's swelled head cost him a cool $5,000 the past season and he is now so emaciated for the coming season his friends fear an attack of acute melancholia.

Chicago gets Tony Mautice there is one question that is being asked by the short wad and old car wheels scattered along the shore.

Three states—Ohio, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania—supply the bulk of professional players. Nearly every club in the country contains at least one player from one of these states.

Base ball magnates will be a hard crowd to bulldoze this winter. Retirement threats by star players will have about as much effect as a lead bullet.

Frank Goulin, who was the occasion of a good deal of unnecessary bickering this season, is now in the city.

Joe Frickard writes me from Chicago that the U. S. Delegation to the Olympic games in the U. S. is still in the city.

There are four cycling clubs in the United States bearing the cognomen of the Capital City Cycling club, each located at a different point.

A road congress is scheduled to meet in Indianapolis December 7, 8 and 9. Isaac Potter, author of "Good Roads," will deliver the opening address.

Minneapolis wheelmen have jointly raised the necessary funds to build a three-lap cement or asphalt track, which, when completed, will be one of the finest in the country.

Captain Potter of the Tourist Wheelmen requests that every member of the club who can be of any use to the club should be invited to the annual meeting.

The Ladies Wheel club indulged in one of their delightful little spin last Wednesday evening.

Do you love a genuine healthful and highly entertaining sport? If so get your wheels on a good running order and take part in the great hare and hounds chase on Thanksgiving afternoon.

The riding season of 1932 is rapidly drawing to a close. Now is the time for the horse owner to get his horse in the best of condition.

Yeomans, Onawa, Ia. and was bred at Village farm.—Western Resources. J. B. Chandler, Fullerton, Neb., is the only man to put two yearlings in the list during 1932.

McInty, the 3-year-old pacer in Henry Kidwell's string at Bushville, Neb., has worked a quarter in 3:13 1/2 seconds, which is pretty good work for a colt in training.

The old-time cowboys of northwest Nebraska met at Chadron, Neb., Monday and organized a company to run a race from that city to the Nebraska building at the World's Fair.

H. J. Palmer, Grand Island, Neb., purchased the Chicago sale, the 7-year-old gelding, Frank Herby, 7:44, by Hamiltonian owned by M. M. Manbrine, 2:20 1/2.

John M. Thurston and Henry Homan graced something like a dozen birds down on the island one day last week.

Frank Keulston and Billy Thompson returned from the River Sioux recently with a good bag of mallards, blue-winged teal, quail and other game.

There will be a grand trap shoot on the grounds across the river Thanksgiving day which all the gun clubs of the city will take part.

Tom McCague, H. Alexander and A. R. Dufrene spent a couple of days in the woods over near Logan, Ia., this week hunting squirrels.

There will be a grand trap shoot on the grounds across the river Thanksgiving day which all the gun clubs of the city will take part.

There are many who question the wisdom of all these glove contests located on the city streets.

But this is not all the supreme court has done. Leaving out of the question the merits of the above, this august body's decision is a landmark in the history of the sport.

That a nice property worth anywhere from $100 to $1,000 is not property at all, whether it is in the shape of a piano or quadruped, has long been deemed the slickest idea by all men of business.

When the dog leaves the owner's premises or goes upon the public road, an owner is liable for any damage done by the dog.

The contest between Tom Ryan, the welterweight champion, and Jack Collins, the BILL OF FARE. LEAVE YOUR CHANGE. WE SHALL ACCOMMODATE YOU QUICKLY.

1. Not Soup de Bouillon, But Children's Suits To the Queen's Taste, At 75c, $1.25, $1.75 and Up.

2. Not Lettuce Forget Children's Overcoats With Capes, $1.25, $1.75, $2.50 and Up. They are Dainties.

3. Not Domestic Duck with Apple Sauce, But Boys' Stylish Ulsters, At $3.50, Worth $6.00. They are Prince Charles Style With Plaid Lining.

4. Not Pumpkin Pie or Cheese, But Boys' Suits, Ages 11 to 18. Coats, Pants and Vests, At $2.00, $3.00, 4.00 and Up. These are Actually Worth Double.

Western Clothing Co. J. HAMBERGER, Prop. 1317-1319 Douglas Street. Mail Orders will have prompt attention.

Van Houten's Cocoa. 100 CUPS OF COCOA FOR 30 CENTS IF YOU BUY REST AND GOOD FARTHEST. Unrivalled for Digestibility, Strength, and Delicacy of Flavor. Perfectly Pure.

RECEIVED NEW. DOCTOR: MCGREW. Geisler's Bird Store. JAPANESE PILE CURE. MARRIAGE PAPER. ALL GOODS AT THIS LABEL.

HOME INDUSTRIES. by purchasing goods made at the following Nebraska Factories. If you can not find what you want, communicate with the manufacturers, as to who dealers handle their goods.